Advisory for Indian Students seeking admission in St. Tereza
University, Yerevan (Armenia)

This Embassy has received numerous complaints from the existing Indian students who are studying in Medical University named after St. Tereza in Yerevan (Armenia). The complaints range from lack of proper studies, infrastructure, qualified faculty members etc to allegations of corruption, denial of degrees on completion of studies on various grounds and extortion of money on various grounds.

The Embassy has also come to know of the operation of some unscrupulous agents working in tandem with the said University issuing fake admission letters and indulging in various forms of cheating with Indian students. It has also come to notice of the Embassy that University's medical courses accreditation has not been renewed by the Ministry of Education of Armenia. It is also revealed that University is not keeping proper academic records of Indian Students.

In view of the above, fresh Indian students are advised to take precautions and do due diligence before taking admission in this University.
